Very good, will do. Understand the legal issues and will not share any information. If you don't mind, we will continue to direct them to the EPA for any of the information you have not allowed us to discuss openly.

Hi –
 We just had a call with the mayor and a follow-up with the City's consultant.
 They understand that we can't share individual home information based on the Privacy Act.
 We agreed to discuss results and plans in general terms for now, using phrases such as "additional priority homes," etc.

If they ask again, and I expect that they will not, please refer them to me.

Also, we can't share info with IDEM – addresses, results, etc. -- until our data sharing agreement with the state is made final. We will let you know.

Thanks.

Carolyn

My apologies, Carolyn, but one final thing. We have been contacted by the Mayor and are not sharing information on the Ex. 6 Personal Privacy (PP) but it does bring up the question of when EPA may be talking to the City and IDEM. I know that Brad has contacts with IDEM and I would imagine he'll get a call sometime also. Thanks.

Carolyn - I didn't get the feel that you were ready for us to contact the property owner and resident at Ex. 6 Personal Privacy (PP) start talking to the other 8 locations about access. Before I turn Brad's team loose (and they are ready to go today) I wanted to confirm that we're good to talk to these folks. At least, could we start contacting the 8 locations about access even if you wanted to hold off on Ex. 6 Personal Privacy (PP) or now? Thanks.

Also, looking to be going into sewer manholes today if we have your okay. If we want to sample this week, we have to start the process today. Thank you.
